

La diagnosi di DDAI nei Paesi dell'Est Europa: la situazione in Polonia

Piotr Gorczyca

Silesian Medical University, Gliwice (Polonia)

This presentation will focus on two major issues in Poland: institutional problems of therapy children with ADHD and comorbidity of children with ADHD.

Teacher-Parents-Psychologist-Psychiatrist- the most often way of children with ADHD. This way usually leads to individual teaching or to integrity class. Is it possible that better co-operation among specialists might leave children in their normal classes? Are the financial problems of institutions really justification for us? Comorbidity of ADHD or problem with diagnosis. Some children present, for instance such symptoms as hyperactivity, difficulty with paying and sustaining attention and an intense absorption in certain subjects. Is it Asperger's syndrome or ADHD? What about serious conduct disorder under 10 years and possibility of presence of ADHD in these children? Author discusses these problems and also pay attention to the helpful role of parents and teachers in therapy.